July 2024 Update for Former Licensed Technologists OAA and Participants in the OAA Technology Program

Last week, the OAA received a draft Notice of Motion (NOM) from the legal counsel of the Association of Architectural Technologists (AATO), alleging the OAA is in contempt of the May 10, 2023 Court Order.

According to our review of the records of the Court, the NOM has yet to be filed and is therefore not a public document at this time. As such, the OAA had refrained from communicating AATO's latest legal action. (AATO legal counsel has informed us the NOM will be filed on July 23.)

Earlier today, the OAA was advised that the AATO has made public its NOM intention. Consequently, we are providing you with this information in the interest of transparency.

The OAA is working with legal counsel to respond, and we will be opposing the NOM should it be filed.

Further updates will be provided as they become available. To see previous communications related to the Court Order and legislation related to limited licences, visit the OAA Website.
